PENCIL BOX chock full of things needed by nine-year-olds are displayed to school friends by Margaret Wolanichuk on steps of Alex Taylor public school. Inspecting Margaret's bright red box of pencils are Joan Morris, eight, and Lorraine Lazaruk, eight. Teachers spent busy morning registering newcomers to city schools. Thousands of youngsters got back in swing of things here today as 1949-50 school term opens.

SLIGHTLY CONFUSED beginner Jerry Noga is registered for grade one studies at Alex Taylor school by Miss B. Bruce. Jerry will be six shortly and is spending his first day at school. More than 1,500 city children started school for first time today; Edmonton "class" of 22,000 pupils is largest in city's history.

A lunatic behind the wheel is no more dangerous than the driver who has been drinking. The man who is "dead drunk" is not as big a highway threat, however, as the man who has "had a few." It is the driver who speeds, who is careless and reckless, prone to lose his temper, and whose reactions have been slowed. These are drivers who actions are as criminal as blindly firing a revolver in a crowded theatre.

If you have been drinking, take a taxi home—don't drive.

About 12 drivers out of every 100 in rural fatal accidents were reported to have been driving on the wrong side of the road. There is virtually no excuse for this type of accident. It is a result of carelessness and utter disregard for safety. Don't be caught on the other fellow's side of the road. Be sure you have the necessary clearance and time before attempting to pass another car. Stay in the slightest doubt—stay in your own lane.

Young Offender Is Sent To Mental Institution

Oil Company Sells Lands To Royal Bank

Two sites of city property have been reported here today. Imperial Oil Ltd. has sold the 162-acre site at southeast corner of 102 street and 102 avenue to Royal Bank. Since site is leased to a filling station operator until next spring, transfer of the property will not be completed until then.

Another sale on 102 avenue is the 162-acre site on the north side of the avenue, east of 106 street. Property is reported to have been bought by an Edmonton Chinese syndicate, which plans to erect a new building.

Pile-dwellings of the Nicolai landers are one of the earliest types of dwellings evolved by man.

Allowances On Upswing In Province

A record total of $1,550,105 was paid in Alberta in family allowance cheques during August. This was an increase of $45,659 over July figures.

Reason for the boost H. Gillman, regional director of the family allowances branch here, said, is number of immigrant families in the province which became eligible after one year's residence.

Another aspect, he said, was the province birth-rate which is about 2,000 babies a month.

The boy appeared yesterday afternoon in juvenile court and was committed indefinitely to the mental hospital by Magistrate C. M. McKen.

The youth was an inmate of the Optimist's South Side Home for boys. He has been committed to the mental hospital because he was being detained prior to being sent to a farm.

THIS MUTUEL TICKET WORTH LOOKING FOR

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Sam Renick reported today that he still couldn't find a pari-mutuel ticket worth $3,888.

It did not show up at the Aqueduct race track, either, where Renick Tuesday bet $80 on Orange Sun, a 2-to-1 winner—and then lost his ticket.

Renick, a former jockey, once lived in Winnipeg and is well known in racing circles there.

Youths Draw Remand For Housebreaking

When Edmonton youths were remanded three months for sentence yesterday on charges of housebreaking and theft.

Guy Royer, 18, of 10004-105 avenue, and Robert Cunningham, 18, of 10578-100 street, pleaded guilty to charges of stealing blankets from a home in the Newwood district, August 20.

Court was told the pair entered the home following a drinking party. Assistant crown prosecutor Guy Beaudry suggested the youths be given a suspended sentence. Magistrate A. I. Miller declined, stating: "I don't like these cases of housebreaking. Boys of this age shouldn't be involved in drinking parties."

Mayor Lists Duty Of Town Planner

Authorities To Increase As Knowledge Mounts

Town Planner Noel Dant will not be a dictator. He will not have control of zoning regulations except as he is able to influence them by recommendations.

This is Mayor Harry D. Ainlay's answer to a series of seven questions submitted by The Bulletin. Asked what Mr. Dant's duties will be, Mayor Ainlay said a precise definition is very difficult. "These will develop with his increased knowledge of local problems and present form of administration."

"In general his duties will be of an advisory nature to the Town Planning Commission and through them to the City Council. He will be executive officer of the commission. His executive power will be as such as develops in the nature of his operations."

Mr. Dant's staff will be small to start and will only increase as need arises, the mayor said.

Asked whether Mr. Dant will have complete control of zoning regulations, or whether his decisions will be subject to veto by non-professional members of Town Planning Commission, Mayor Ainlay replied that Mr. Dant will not be, and as Town Planner has no desire to be a dictator.

Asked whether Mr. Dant will be a representative of the people, he said he is likely to be final authority for legislation in the city.

"The Town Planner recognized the well-known principle of town planning, that results can only be obtained by working in co-operation with city officials and the general public."

Quered on possibility of Mr. Dant facing frustrations in Edmonton similar to those which prompted him to leave Chicago, Mayor Ainlay said: "His brief contacts in the city assured him that there is no feeling of frustration on his part. He was favorably impressed with our administrative setup here and especially with the committee of supervisors headed by former City Engineer, A. W. Haddock."

Mr. Dant is not impressed with the former idea of the efficiency of a so-called master plan, but favors rather in development of a flexible plan subject to changes as conditions may arise."

NO CHANGES Responding to a question about possible changes in function of the city building inspector's office, the mayor said there will remain unchanged. "In the absence of anyone authorized as Town Planner the city Architect (Max C. Dewar) has given considerable attention to this phase of civic administration. Functions of his own department are to do plans for city buildings, pass on plans and conduct building inspections. These will remain as functions of Architect's Department."

Another query dealt with clarification of Mr. Dant's duties as related to the survey now being conducted by Professors Bland and

Trade Unions In U.K. to Back Gov't Policy

By ALAN HARVEY
LONDON, Sept. 1.—(CP)—Britain's Trade Union Congress made it clear last night it intended to go along with the government's "restrained" policy on wages, prices and profits.
In the plainest language it has used to date, the TUC showed it is convinced that Britain, in its present economic crisis, cannot afford higher wages or obtain sweeping reductions in the cost of living.
After a "prolonged and careful study," the Congress said, it is clear there is no alternative to the policy of restraint on wage claims. Indeed, it urged its affiliated unions to pursue a so-called "wage freeze" with a greater determination than ever known.

POT THE ANSWER
"At this stage," it said, "a mere general increase in money wages could not bring the resources into production and would therefore fail to give a higher standard of living than at present."
And indeed a substantial increase in money wages would in fact intensify both our external and internal difficulties and there by have an adverse effect upon the general standard of living.

The TUC stand was outlined in a special report which will be submitted next week to the annual conference of the congress at Bridlington, Yorkshire. In many respects it was just as expected. After a budget address by Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer.

PRICE CONTROLS
Just as Sir Stafford did, the report stressed there is little hope of reducing taxes while social services and food subsidies cost so much. It exceeded the general policy of keeping profits at a reasonable level by price control rather than legislative action and even had a more or less tolerant eye for the purchase tax.

The last sentence of the report deals with the possibility of dissent by individual unions. It says that Britain's contribution to world peace will be jeopardized if "trade union bodies of any alternative policy, reject all responsibility and proceed to submit wage claims contrary to the policy that the congress has endorsed."

BOY WINS

It Happens Only Once In A Lifetime
HORLEY, Surrey, England, Sept. 1.—(Reuters)—A small boy stood for hours at the front of a large crowd at an auction sale of antiques.

Near the end of the sale an impressive suit of Japanese armor was put up. "How much for this?" said the auctioneer. A youthful voice rang out "one shilling" (20 cents).
There was silence. People gazed at each other and smiled. The auctioneer waited with a polite manner. Down it went, and he took the boy's shilling for a suit of armor worth $20 ($80).
The boy triumphantly wheeled away his bargain in a baby carriage. But he left without the sword and shield, which were sent on to him.

Telepathy Established Says Oxford Professor

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, England, Sept. 1.—(CP)—An Oxford University scientist said today that telepathy—communication between minds other than through the ordinary senses—has been established.
Dr. Allister Hardy, Linacre professor of zoology and comparative anatomy at Oxford, told the British association for the advancement of science that although telepathy is something many scientists do not like to look at, no one who examines it with unbiased mind can reject the evidence.
He said telepathy may lead to other scientific discoveries.
"If telepathy is real, as I believe it is, then such a revolutionary discovery should make us keep our minds open to the possibility that there may be so much more in living things than our evolution than our science has hitherto led us to expect," Dr. Hardy said.
HUMAN EVOLUTION
Noting that man, by selective breeding, can alter the form of domestic animals to suit his own limits, his own desires, Dr. Hardy said the same idea could be applied to man himself.

For the next six years millions of men fought with the most destructive weapons the world had ever known.
I watched a German army march through Slovakia to the Polish frontier while Hitler's foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, was packing to go to Moscow.

When Hitler's infamy was lauded, I headed for Poland through the back door of the Carpathian mountains. I got acquainted with Stuka dive-bombers in a Polish city called Lvov. I saw Polish women and children die in the streets of Lvov when all the defence that city had against Nazi air attacks was a few old machine guns.

In the next terrible years, as the Reich weather ship, HMCS St. John, an estimated total of 220,000 persons perished. Another 340,000 were wounded and maimed.

What has happened to Poland? Divided by the streets of Lvov, set up again by Russia, the United States and Britain. Lvov today is under the Reich.

Fire-Fighting Plan For Defence Urged

Co-ordination Of Services Proposed By Worthington

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—(CP)—Maj. Gen. F. F. Worthington today called for establishment in Canada of an integrated network of fire fighting services so that this country will be prepared for the consequences of an attack in the event of war.

Co-ordination among municipal services, standardization of fire-fighting equipment and inclusion of women in the setup of auxiliary and volunteer fire fighting forces were urged by Maj. Gen. Worthington, Canada's co-ordinator of civil defence, in an address prepared for delivery before the 41st annual convention of the Dominion fire chiefs.

Heaviest toll in life and property during the Second World War resulted from fire, he said.

RISK WILL BE MORE

"In a study of potential weapons which may be used in the future, there is nothing to indicate that the fire risk will be less, and there is much to indicate that it will be more."

He noted that fire services in Canada are municipal in organization and likely to remain so as compared with the national setup in countries such as the United Kingdom.

"Therefore, mutual co-operation is a vital necessity if we are to function with maximum efficiency in the event of a disaster. "Fire fighting is a profession," he said. "Yet, in all Canada there is

RADIO NEWS PRESENTS PROBLEM SAYS BRIEF

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—(CP)—The Canadian Association for Adult Education today said radio presents a constant variety of problems requiring investigation. One of these was the kind of news people hear over their receiving sets.

In a brief prepared for the royal commission on arts and sciences the association recommended that machinery be established by which competent research students in universities and elsewhere could conduct continuous investigations into such things as:

1. The possibility and extent of biased and slanted news reporting in Canadian radio.
2. Implications when the heavy fog yesterday killing three members of a family. Two bodies already recovered were identified as those of Mrs. May Givner, 40, and her son, Richard, 13. Third victim is the woman's husband.

Rail Parleys Continuing

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—(CP)—Frank Hall, vice-president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Clerks (AFL), and chief negotiator for 14 other international railroad unions in Canada, said today that negotiations with the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National are proceeding "regularly" but results will not be known before at least a month.

The negotiations, affecting about 150,000 non-running-grades workers, have been in progress nearly two months. The employees are asking reduction in the work-week from 48 to 40 hours without loss of take-home pay, a general wage increase of seven cents an hour and two consecutive days off weekly.

The railroads have maintained that cost of meeting the demands would be about $74,000,000 annually.

Three Vancouver golfers arrived in the city last night via TCA all set for a two-day practice session at Mayfair Golf club prior to the Alberta Open, starting Saturday.

Professionals Jock McKinnon, Benny Cole, along with Walt McElroy, ranked Canada's number one amateur in 1948, were the first arrivals, stepping off at Municipal Airport at 6:30 p.m.

Stan Leonard, popular Marine Drive professional from Vancouver, is expected in today. First round of the 72-hole three-day tournament starts 10 a.m. Saturday.

Trade Talks

MOSCOW, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A Czech trade delegation has arrived here for detailed talks on exchange of Czech manufactured goods for Russian raw materials, including iron ore and synthetic rubber.

In 1948 defence headquarters at Ottawa set Canada's RCAF minimum strength at 18,100 but it was understood that after then peace-time strength has been flexible.

Officers here estimate present total to be more than 15,500, still considerably under the 1948 goal.

FOUR ON STAFF

The new recruiting depot is in charge of P. L. J. B. Laflamme, DFC, with P. H. E. Bowman second in command. Two assistants, J. H. Wyman and L. L. Draper, and stenographic work is done by civilian Miss Sharon Kachuk.

FO Bowman said he believes the new location will act as a stimulus in the drive locally for more personnel.

On a top day it is expected the staff will be able to handle up to 10 interviews, he said.

Medical examiners are Sgts. Ldr. J. D. Munroe and P. L. J. M. O'Brien.

Since first of the year 400 contacts have been given selection tests and out of this number 120 were accepted and attested, the officer said.

On this volume recruits able to pass the tests number about 27 per cent.

From country applications FO Bowman said encouraging results were noted from the RCAF's daily classified advertising campaign. He said his office preferred receiving applications by use of the newspaper coupons, that letters, although sometimes lengthy, frequently did not contain essential information.

FROM COUNTRY
Majority of young men applying since first of the year were from country points, he said.

The new office is equipped to handle applicants from French-speaking localities, too.

P. L. J. Laflamme, a native of Hull, is fluent in both English and French.

Telephone number at the new recruiting depot is 43008.

F. D. Roosevelt, Jr., Wed In New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Representative Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., (Dem.-N.Y.) yesterday married blonde Suzanne Perrin, 26, socially prominent New Yorker. The wedding was a private ceremony at the Manhattan apartment of the bride's mother. Among those attending were Roosevelt's mother and a brother, Elliott.

board as that other Jimmie could enjoy Oscar's company. That was 10 days ago.

Jimmy's father, Norman MacNeil, is angry.

"They should have told me Oscar was sick," Mr. MacNeil said. "They told every seal they ever had. Oscar was healthy and fine when we turned him over."

Park Superintendent, P. B. Stovras hasn't received a full report on Oscar's death.

Living-Cost Index Is Out Tomorrow

Advance Likely If Index Follows Last Year's Trend

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—(CP)—The housewife who spends the family cash and the husband who earns it will have a chance to either smile or despair when the country's latest cost-of-living index is announced tomorrow.

Food prices which sent the cost-of-living index to its highest point of 1941 in June are expected to show little change for either better or worse when the July index hits the streets.

Neither will rent which also moved upward in June. The government has completed its quarterly survey and included it in the June calculations.

But a wide range of other price factors, such as fuel and light, bus fares and gasoline, clothing and home furnishings, also bear an influence on the cost-of-living index.

FOODS MOVE UP
June food prices helped send the index to its peak of 1941, after a sharp 15-point leap, biggest in a year. The climb, which followed a one-point increase in May, came after an eight-month period in which the barometer remained fairly stable, fluctuating only seven-tenths of a point. The index is based on 1953-39 equals 100.

Higher prices for meat, eggs, fruit and vegetables accounted for the increase.

sub-index. It climbed from 205.6 to 207.2. The quarterly survey of rents sent the sub-index up a point from 122.4 to 123.4. The next survey won't take place until September and probably won't be made public until October.

ADVANCE POSSIBLE
If the index takes the same path as a year ago, it will climb upwards by 25 points over the previous month, from 123.1 to 125.7. In August it climbed again.

Government officials previously have indicated that Canadian food prices likely will follow trends in the U.S.—after a few months' lag. A recent report from Washington said that living costs in the U.S. already have moved downwards. The consumers price index showed

On the other hand, Canadian wholesale prices are reversing a previous trend and moving upwards. It appears reasonable that without a decline in the whole sale level, there can be little change downwards in retail prices.

UNSEATED but landing on his feet, this rider was one of the more fortunate of the cowboys who matched their riding skill against outlaw horses at a recent B.C. rodeo. U.S., Canadian Manoeuvres Set for North This Winter

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—(CP)—Canadian and United States air and ground forces will test their skill next January and February in joint winter training exercises in the Yukon and Alaska, it was announced today by Defence Minister Claxton.

He said the objectives of the manoeuvres are to "develop procedures, doctrine and techniques for the employment of combined Canadian-United States army and air forces operating in the far north."

He described the exercises—dubbed "exercise cross-in"—as "real in nature and on a comparatively small scale."

CONTINUING PLAN
"It will be a continuation of the combined training program carried out by both countries during the last few years," he added.

As a combined operation, "cross-in" will differ from "exercise work," expedition into the Canadian Arctic in 1946, and the rement will be used in a test of combined efficiency.

U.S. COMMANDER
Radar and control centres also will be employed.

Over-all commander of the exercise will be named by the U.S., who also will provide the Allied forces commander. Canada will provide the Allied air force commander.

In the Whitehorse area, where Canadian Army engineers are already stationed, advance detachments of U.S. army engineers are moving in to prepare facilities for the combat elements. The latter are not expected to move northward until January after preparatory training camps in each respective country.

Especially, the international auxiliary language invented by Dr. Zamenhof of Warsaw, was first published in 1887.

Citizen Reaction to outcome of Edmonton Eskimos-California Stampeder game Bill McKinley, executive of local finance company picked Stamp by 13 points said he "They are more experienced, a better conditioned."

"I hate to admit it," grined service center manager Bill Pettigrew, "but Calgary will win by 10 points." Pettigrew has his own troubles with Calgary, especially during busy season when playing defence for Edmonton Flyers against puckhacking Stampeder.

"They'd better win," affirmed part Connie Harold when asked if Eskimos would be victorious. You get the impression that some dashing Edmonton player would be cut off from dating pretty "Hello" girl if Stamp even look like they might come close to winning.

Steve Shine boy Jerry Geary viewed it differently. "Don't pay much attention to them stories about how good Stampeder is," he said. No reason why we can't beat Calgary at football like we do at other sports. "He likes the Eskos, for sure even if Stamp are Canadian champs."

"Football? What's that?" queried restaurant proprietor Wong Fung. "We know more about fish and chips," he said, in level character of commerce spirit. Fung took time out from ringing up his cash register to ask him picked Eskimos.

"With Earl Klay carrying the ball, we can't lose," smiled sales-lady Doreen Herbert. "They're kidding." A lot of people agree with her. Doreen said that they will give plenty of yards for Eskimos this fall. Former Los Angeles Don seems set, at that.

"Hope Eskimos win," said Bernie Tremblay. "But I got five bucks that says they don't." Tremblay, arching in chartered accountant's office, reasoned like many more Edmontonians: Calgary has more experienced, proven players.

Roi Harar Wins 'Peg Handicap

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—(CP)—The first 14 days of the pro baseball racing met got under way at Polo Park yesterday with approximately 6,000 in attendance. Favorites, however, did not win in weather that was hot and sunny for the first time since cold northwest wind swept the track.

Roi Harar, thirty-four-year-old bay colt, owned by Max Cristall of Edmonton, won the fifth and feature, President's Handicap, at 6 1/2 furlongs. Roi Harar had almost two lengths to spare over Fort Garry, from a Meadowbrook stable of Winnipeg. Harvey M. was third. Jackie Ed Johnson was aboard the winner.

Rogers' Choice, also the people's choice, won the first race and combined with Miss Dancer, at 1/2 mile, in the second for a daily double payoff of $7.50. No smoking cropped the final race of the day with Winnipeg picking for a quintella of $77.85.

NOW IT'S FOR SURE: CARSE CANUCK COACH

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1.—(CP)—Bill Carse, 35-year-old veteran of Western hockey, will coach the Vancouver Canucks this winter. Canuck owner Coley Hall said yesterday.

Carse, who started his professional hockey career with Edmonton in the old Northwestern Hockey League in 1934-35, played for New York Rangers and later Chicago Black Hawks in the National Hockey League.

TIPS FOR FOOTBALL SPECTATORS

Second Guessing Favorite Pastime for Bleacherites

(Following is the list of two articles on How To Watch Football, written by Dick Beddoe, Bulletin sports writer, in co-operation with Bill McKinley, executive of local finance company.)

Second guessing is the privilege of every sports fan. And the guy football spectators like to second guess is the quarterback, the man who is responsible for calling the signals.

You will find this pastime a lot simpler if you know some fundamental rules for quarterbacks. So let's go into the huddle and dig up some tips to help you call the plays as a game unfolds.

The football field is 100 yards long and is marked off in five-yard strips. But there is another division, a mental one, which exists only in the mind of the quarterback.

He divides the field into five zones, each 20 yards in length and extending from side-line to side-line. His choice of plays and his decision as to when his team shall kick, depends largely upon what "zone" his team is occupying.

ZONE BY ZONE

First zone begins from the quarterback's own goal line and extends 20 yards. Here, in the shadow of his own goal posts, almost every quarter will play safe and kick on second down after trying one play through the line.

Second zone runs from own 20-yard line to your own 40-yard line. The quarterback will run offensive plays here to put up yardage. But he is particularly close to gaining the necessary 10 yards, he will kick on third down.

In the third zone, the 40-yard line, all the excitement begins. This is where a quarterback shakes out his bag of tricks, calling passes, kick plays, anything

BRAMPTON, Ont., Sept. 1.—(CP)—Brampton Excelsiors evened last best of seven preliminary playoff series in the Ontario Senior Lacrosse Association at game space by downing St. Catharines Athletics 11-7 here last night.

WON'T CATCH 'EM ALL

One will "catch" every play. If that person evolved Ann Stukus, something reverently referred to as the poor "white" Eskimo, would give him an oil well, equalling privilege on Jasper avenue, and the High Level bridge to play quarterback for the Eskimos.

His key to knowledge in being used by a club, you can anticipate what plays it will use.

Eskimos, for example, plan to employ a "trick" play. You can expect deceptive ball handling, running, and passing plays from a formation. The emphasis will be on "rush-blocking" rather than power blocking, and the plays along the ground will feature speed rather than brute strength.

Your program will give you a summary of the important rules and the signals made by the referee. But you won't need to know all the intricate rules of the game to enjoy watching two teams bash each other to bits.

In fact, given a lot of spirit in one hand and a pretty girl in the other, there is a great deal of satisfaction to be had from viewing a football game.

Eskimos Buzzing As Cubs Win 10-3

Ducey Fussin' and Feudin'; Fines Bill Price, Brockie

By Stan Mohr

Bulletin Sports Editor

All is not hearts and flowers in the camp of the Eskimos on the eve of their opening playoff game against Calgary Purities.

Following last night's 10-3 setback of Eskos by Cubs it was here the final game of the Big Four Baseball Series. The Eskimos, coached by John Ducey, general manager of Eskos, that second-sacker Bill Price and center-fielder Dave Brockie had been fined $15 and $10, respectively, for failing to live up to their contract requirements.

Specially, Ducey and his ballplayers disagree on whether or not they should be required to take part in certain "field" events, staged before the game got underway.

A circling-the-bases competition, as well as a throwing contest, involving players from the Cubs and Eskos, had been scheduled. When Price and Brockie learned they would be expected to represent the Eskos in the test of speed around the sacks they rebelled.

After refusing point blank to take part, peeled off his uniform, Brockie followed suit. Neither, therefore, was around to suffer with his mates as Cubs dashed out another thumping to go with the 11-5 sweeping of the night before.

Following the game Ducey announced the fines.

At the same time he made it clear that neither player had been suspended. "They will play Friday night," he said. "That's up to them." At the same time he indicated that he planned to represent the Eskos in the throwing contest.

Absence of either Price or Brockie from the lineup might seriously embarrass the club in its efforts to start Purities in the "field" events. Should both decide to sit it out in protest over the fine schedule, it might prove an all too crippling blow to Eskos' chances.

It's understood that Brockie maintained a last hour stand that he would not be playing Friday night. Price, it is said, must stand.

O'CONNOR WINS SPRINT

In the meantime, Des O'Connor, Eskos' star, won the bases in 14 and eighteenth seconds to nip teammate Bill Price by one-half second. He was the only one to reach the bases in the race.

FANS SEE LIGHT, DONATE $5,400

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Things must have seemed a little brighter for Jackie Hayes today, even if he is blind.

Jackie, 45-year-old former second sacker for Washington Senators and Chicago White Sox, had a "night" as the two teams met at the stadium.

Fans from 21 states contributed more than $5,400 for a horse which was presented to Hayes, who retired as a player in 1934. He was forced out of the lineup when an eye ailment developed, into total blindness.

Hayes is a country tax collector in Clinton, Ala.

Oh For September, 1944

If Henry Martell could flip the calendar back five years to Labor Day week-end, 1944, he'd be in a pinch to pick up most of the matches in the Alberta and Western Canada Opens, scheduled to get underway at Mayfair Golf and Country club, Saturday.

That was the year the "Highlands club pro made a mockery of the Alberta Open, turning in a 72-hole total of 268 over the rolling, picturesque fairways of the Calgary Golf and Country club.

Of course it won't require anything like a 268 to take it all this time. Bringing off low scores on the Calgary layout is one thing. Doing it at tougher Mayfair is something else again.

Martell, accompanied by Ted West, Jim Harper and Charles Smith, was out in force at Mayfair yesterday afternoon. He has been working overtime of late at this practice house, trying, as he put it while coming up the fifth fairway yesterday, to get his game "in shape." "I haven't been putting worth a darn for two years now," he pointed out. Then he stepped up to a tough six-footer and—banged it home.

B'Gosh He's A New Man

It came as a shock—and a pleasant one, it might be added—to discover that Henry Martell, the professional golfer, is a changed man over his years as the west's ace amateur shotmaker.

As a simon-pure he was pretty much all business, even during a practice round. It didn't seem to matter whether school kept or not for anyone else. Friend and foe alike, were pretty much the same in his book.

But of a sudden he finds time to lose off the odd bougie, the silly and quip. It seems easy for him now to put even an opponent on the back.

Mind, he still gives most opponents the works. But he's doing it with a smile, instead of a scowl.

Whether this new-found spirit of camaraderie is good thing in his case... whether it's calculated to pay off in dollars and cents, we wouldn't know.

He mentioned at one stage yesterday that inability to concentrate on his game, as he once could, was his biggest bugbear nowadays.

Possibly, concentration in his case was linked with a lone wolf outlook. But we know, now, that it is that on Martell that new-found smile looks like the McCoy.

Eight Times 33 Is

He was around the testing first nine in 33, starting with a birdie three at the long (460 yards) first hole.

West matched him to start, each coming out of a trap to get his birdie.

While stringing together seven pars and a pair of "birds" on that outgoing nine, the overtime members of the police force found time to "export" the impending tournament in which he has as big a stake as the next guy.

Even if Pat Fletcher comes, I'll be between Sam Leonard and Bud Ward for top money, said easily.

Ward is a great competitor," he rattled on and on the former U.S. amateur champion. "Hits the ball a long piece and can make all the shots."

Martell hooked up with the Spokane nifty on the coast a couple of times, knows just what makes him tick. One gathers that he likes him over Leonard slightly, should the 72-hole marathon develop into a two-man show.

But there are those who fancy this same Martell's chances of turning the Alberta Golf Association's prize plum into at least a three-man scramble.

For one thing he knows Mayfair well as well as his own Highlands course. For another he's had time to get in plenty of practice hits of late.

And, besides meaning an additional $600 in his poke, a win over Ward, Leonard and Martell would represent quite a feather in Martell's sleeve.

Turnesa Nearing U.S. Amateur Golf Title

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Willie Turnesa yesterday won two matches in defence of his United States Amateur golf title as three of his strongest rivals were defeated out.

Turnesa himself whipped Ray Billows of Doughkeeps, N.Y., three times a round, by 6 and 5 in the afternoon rounds.

Frank Strahan of Toledo, Ohio, and Skeel Riegel of Oklahoma, were the other two contenders who failed to advance into today's fifth round.

Riegel retired Strahan in the morning round, 3 and 2, and lost after lunch by the same score to Jim McIliffe of Bethlehem, Pa.

Joining Turnesa and McIliffe in the first of today's two 18-hole rounds are such stars as Bob Fair of Toronto, Scarborough, who won two matches, Harold Padock of Aurora, Wis., Hay West of Spokane, Wash.; H. Hunter of Pacific View, Calif.; Butler King of Wichita Falls, Texas; Charles Cox of Oklahoma City; Charles Bailey of Greenville, S.C.; Frank Striffler of New York; and Julius Brown of West Hartford, Conn.

Fair, Canada's only entry, advanced to the fourth round yesterday morning by beating Harry Giffitt, Jr., Port Wayne, Ind. 5 and 4. In the afternoon he knocked off Wilfred Crangley, Kingston, Mass., 2 up.

WETASKIWIN FOOTBALL POOH-POOHED

Edmonton Athletic club football officials last night postponed the running of the Wetaskiwin plans to enter a football team in the local junior league. Said the A.C. spokesman:

"Wetaskiwin isn't likely to have the necessary money, players, or equipment to make a success of competing with Maple Leafs and E.C.A. in the league."

A report from Lacombe has it that Wetaskiwin is likely to enter into a central Alberta league, embracing such points as Lacombe, Ponoka, and Red Deer.

FORREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 1.—(AP)—A leading catfisher, Patrice (Gonzales) brought some anguish to his admirers yesterday before he

The big Los Angeles star had no bite in his game whatever in pulling down a 12-1 victory over a local club of Pasadena, Calif., 64, 7-5, 7-10.

A light rain fell throughout the match and eventually caused cancellation of the third day program. All seeded players were action

'Man Without a Country' Seeks U.S. Citizenship

FORREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Jaroslav Drobný, the man without a country, wants to adopt on this side of the Atlantic as his new home.

"If I can obtain permission to stay here permanently, I will apply for U.S. citizenship," Drobný said in an interview while awaiting his second round match yesterday in the United States National tennis championships.

DROBNÝ DISGUSTED

In disgust with the Communist regime, Drobný and his former Davis Cup doubles partner, Vladimir Cernik, turned their backs on their native Czechoslovakia several weeks ago.

They left to play in a tournament in Switzerland and never returned. Drobný is perfectly satisfied with the arrangement.

"I don't like this kind of life," he said. "I don't like the way they play tennis. They let you play in a tournament and then they take away the prize money."

"They can't understand that when somebody wins, somebody else has to lose. They want you to win all the time."

"Talking of his future plans, Drobný said he would not decide about playing professional tennis until he saw how it would work out."

"Hockey is out of it, at least for the present," said Drobný. "I am one of the best amateur hockey players in the world. But I don't like to play it. I don't like to play it in a team. I don't like to play it in a team."

on the TOWN

By J. D.

Received a couple of certificates the other day in the mail and of course my vanity demands that I squander a few bob and have them framed.

One is a proclamation by Father Neptune, great lord of the mabbity, who states I am now a full-fledged member of his noble and ancient order on account of having crossed the equator on July 12 last.

I am assured by his dripping majesty that I will be welcomed with open arms any time I visit his great domain.

He has also ordered all his courtiers to render me every assistance whenever I happen to be down around the equator. He doesn't say anything about medals, but I note the brightly-hued picture in the scroll has a lot of them swimming around his throne.

Second certificate is signed by that venerable old gentleman with the whiskers and eyeglasses, Father Time.

According to him I am a master of time for having crossed the international date line on that same July 12.

The Nippones laughed scornfully when he read about me being a master of time.

BETTER CHECK NEEDED

She said Father Time certainly doesn't check up on his new subjects very carefully on the way never have given me such a title. Being on time for meals should be one prerequisite to such a high-sounding title as master of time. My record in this respect alone is so bad I should be automatically disqualified, she declared.

Certificates were sent by Canada Pacific Airlines to commemorate crossing of the equator and date line on the recent pre-arranged flight to Australia.

Aboard ship it is the custom to include in a lot of solemn brogue, such as having a crew member dressed as King Neptune, "come aboard" and persons crossing the line for the first time are given a shove or baton.

It wasn't possible to do this on our CPA Empress of Sydney, we flew over the equator at 10,000 feet.

WAS FIRST ACROSS

Funny how we all like to show off a little. I had been told by Chief Pilot North Sawie the exact time of our crossing the equator. I got the stewardess to give me an Eskimo pig and went to the very front of the cabin so I could say I was the first passenger across the equator. I nibbled at the pig in defiance of traditional tropical heat.

President Grant McConachie was at the controls of the Empress at the time. He made a sharp bank and wiggled our wings in salute to King Neptune.

We all cheered. Perhaps it's silly but I think we all got a big thrill out of the crossing.

I know I will treasure my certificates of crossing as long as I live.

Bank Clearings

Edmonton's bank clearings for August reached a high of $85,074,474 as compared with $71,043,742 for the month of August in 1948.

Coal Mines Swing Back To Normal 5-Day Week

Alberta coal mines are swinging back into full-scale production.

Almost all bituminous mines, except those in the Crow's Nest Pass region, are back on a five-day production week after a lean summer schedule of two days a week.

Subbituminous mines are getting into full swing more slowly, but will soon be operating fulltime as domestic demand increases.

So far, there are about 30 coal mines operating in the province. At full peak last winter, 271 were in operation. Cut-down in number is due to the fact that many small mines serve local communities only and shut down for the summer months.

LEAST MONTH

Least months of the year for the Alberta coal business are April, May and June, just after the last March winds have blown out.

Demand starts picking up again in July, and increases until full production in winter.

There is a shortage of miners at present, according to John Crawford, director of the mines branch, for the Alberta government.

Shortage is seasonal, for many miners work week and take summer employment until mines open up. So far, about 2,000 mine workers have not yet returned to the mines.

NUMBER DOWN

Total number of men employed in Alberta mines in July was 7,728, in comparison, 9,896 were employed in December of 1947.

Coal production is about normal. Statistics show that production is well ahead of 1948, but a slow-down strike last year cut production by about 1,600,000 tons.

Although it is still too early to know definitely whether or not there will be a coal shortage, Mines Director Crawford said none anticipated, and described the situation as "normal."

HOLLAND'S FARMERS whose tiny, over-crowded farms are among world's most productive, could make a real contribution to agriculture if accepted as immigrants here, A. S. In recognition of his long service and great contribution to the study of this field, the Geographic Board of Canada and Alberta last year named a mountain in the Banff area after Dr. Allan.

Legion Taking Stand On Housing Problems Here

Confusion Reigns As Gov't Errs Statistics Branch Throws Alberta Into Middle

That's done it.

Now we're convinced our situation is falling apart.

In these hectic days of international crises and atom bombs even the most advanced and honest of statistics has let us down.

Somewhere between Edmonton and Ottawa, between the provincial bureau of vital statistics here and the dominion bureau of statistics in the east, there have been made a series of mistakes.

Somewhere has slipped. And that's mighty serious, for when the statisticians—the facts—man who has the very tricks of making everything that goes on—make a mistake, a mighty blow has been struck against all that is good and proper in this dirty world of ours.

Here's how the awful truth was discovered.

Yesterday the monthly report of births, marriages, and deaths in Alberta was received by The Bulletin from the dominion bureau of statistics.

The reporter assigned to the story noticed a discrepancy in some of the figures, so he called the provincial bureau of statistics office here to check on the birth, marriage, and deaths which occurred in Edmonton during May.

He was thunderstruck to find that provincial figures just didn't jibe with dominion figures.

For instance, the dominion facts-and-figures man claim there were 10,000 births in Edmonton during May, Provincial bureau says 500.

That's 12 city babies unaccounted for.

And while 12 out of almost 600 may not seem serious to you and me, to the statisticians it's practically heresy.

It proves that the fact-and-figures men can't even count!

Same thing with deaths.

Dominion figures say 132 Edmontonians died in May.

Provincial figures say 110. Heavens. That means that either 12 actual deaths are listed as dead and aren't, or that 12 people who died are not listed as so.

Who died are listed with a lot of other figures.

We could excuse the statisticians if it weren't for the fact that just the month of May. That might have been a bad month or something.

But last year's figures are wrong. For instance, the dominion bureau says 2484 babies were born in Edmonton from January to May last year. Provincial bureau says the stock here in 2481 youngsters.

Continuation Asked For Rent Controls

Canadian Legion is taking further action on Canada's housing situation.

This week features Legion activity in Ottawa and Edmonton on housing.

In Ottawa, housing committee of the Legion's dominion command is holding a meeting Friday to discuss the matter of housing and make representations to the federal cabinet.

In Edmonton, the five branches of the Legion have formed a standing committee to consider ways of alleviating Edmonton's acute housing problem.

Alberta provincial command of the Legion is being represented in Ottawa by W. J. "Bud" Williams executive secretary at Edmonton, who left by plane last night to attend Friday's meeting.

Legion's dominion command, housing committee will give recommendations to the dominion executive which meets next week. Executive will submit recommendations to the federal cabinet when House of Commons convenes later this month.

ASK LOWER COST Legion officials here expect that Friday's meeting will also discuss housing and lower rents, following recent trans-Canada housing survey taken by Bureau of Census, Minister Williams.

Edmonton Legionnaires have requested rent controls for another year, but there is some doubt whether or not the federal government will continue rent control.

Legion's committee in Edmonton passed a resolution asking continued rent controls.

Committee was formed at a special meeting Sunday of executive members of the four city Canadian Legion branches who gathered to discuss the current housing problem in Edmonton.

It will also consider all relevant matters.
